

Welcome to the 2014/2015 snowmobile season. After last year's season, we can see only good things in store for us this year. Last year the trail stayed open and beautifully groomed right up to the end of the season. And the long term forecast for this year is more cold and SNOW than we had last year. So dig out your winter woolies and tune up those sleds for another fantastic season of snowmobiling!
